Our Approach to Teaching Learners with SEN

At Hollybrook Infant School we believe in participation for all. We want all adults and children to participate in learning and we celebrate all members of our community. We want to create an inclusive culture in our school and we aim to be more responsive to the diversity of children's backgrounds, interests, experience, knowledge and skills.

We value high quality teaching for all learners and actively monitor teaching and learning in the school. For more information on our approach please see our teaching and learning policy.

Our school improvement plan is about developing learning for all and details our planned continued professional development (CPD) opportunities for all staff.

We aim to create a learning environment which is flexible enough to meet the needs of all members of our school community. We monitor progress of all learners, and staff continually assess, ensuring that learning is taking place. Our whole school system for monitoring progress includes regular pupil progress meetings, and staff engage in coaching and supervision.

At Hollybrook Infant School, we value:

Learning for all.

How we identify SEN

At different times in their school career, a child or young person may have a special educational need. The Special Education Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Code of Practice defines SEN as:

“A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them. A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if they:

- (a) have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age.
- (b) have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.”

If a learner is identified as having SEN, we will provide provision that is 'additional to or different from' the normal differentiated curriculum, intended to overcome the barrier to their learning.

Learners can fall behind in school for lots of reasons. They may have been absent from school, they may have attended lots of different schools and not had a consistent opportunity to learn. They may not speak English very well or at all, they may be worried about different things that distract them from learning. At Hollybrook Infant School we are committed to ensuring that all learners have access to learning opportunities, and for those who are at risk of not learning, we will intervene. This does not mean that all vulnerable learners have SEN. Only those with a learning difficulty that requires special educational provision will be identified as having SEN.

Our current SEN profile for 2015-16 shows that we have 9% of children identified as having SEN, and 1.1% of those have an Education Health and Care Plan and 0.5% have a Statement.

5.6% of children are identified as having SEN linked to Cognition and Learning

1.6% linked to Communication and Interaction

1.1% linked to Physical and Sensory

Assessing SEN at Hollybrook Infant School

Class Teachers, support staff, parents/carers and the learner themselves will be the first to notice a difficulty with learning. At Hollybrook Infant School we ensure that assessment of educational needs, directly involves the learner, their parents/carer and of course their teacher. The SENCO will also support with the identification of barriers to learning.

For some learners we may want to seek advice from specialist teams. In our school and multi-academy, we have access to various specialist services such as Speech and Language, Educational Psychologists and an Educational Welfare Officer.

We also employ Teaching Assistants who deliver the interventions in the provision map as co-ordinated by our SENCO.

What we do to Support Learners with SEN at Hollybrook Infant School

Every Teacher is required to adapt the curriculum to ensure access to learning for all children in their class. The Teacher Standards 2012 detail the expectations on all teachers, and we at Hollybrook Infants are proud of our Teachers and their development.

Our Teachers will use various strategies to adapt access to the curriculum, this might include using:

- Visual timetables
- Writing frames
- I-pads, laptops or other alternative recording devices
- Peer buddy systems
- Positive behaviour rewards system

Each learner identified as having SEN, is entitled to support that is 'additional to or different from' a normal differentiated curriculum. The type of support is dependent on the individual learning needs, and is intended to enable access to learning and overcome the barrier to learning identified. This support is described on a provision map, which describes the interventions and actions that we undertake at Hollybrook Infant School to support learners with SEN across the year groups. We modify the provision map regularly, and it changes every year, as our learners and their needs change.

At Hollybrook Infant School we share our experiences and interventions across the JET Academy to demonstrate what we offer for learners with SEN. We are also able to promote consistent practice across all the schools in JET, ensuring equality of opportunity.

Our provision map is shared with Governors who are able to ensure that we monitor the impact of these interventions on learning across the school.

Funding for SEN

Hollybrook Infant School receives funding directly to the school from the Local Authority to support the needs of learners with SEN. This is described in a SEN memorandum. The amount of funding we received for 2014-15 was £14342.

The JET schools are committed to working together to improve learning for all, and we are able to share resources, training and moderate provision for learners with SEN.

How do we Find Out if this Support is Effective?

Monitoring progress is an integral part of teaching and leadership within Hollybrook Infant School. Parents/carers, pupils and staff are involved in reviewing the impact of interventions for learners with SEN. We follow the 'assess, plan, do, review' model and ensure that parents/carers and children are involved in each step. Before any additional provision is selected to help a child, the SENCO, Teacher, parent/carer and learner, agree what they expect to be different following this intervention. A baseline will also be recorded, which can be used to compare the impact of the provision.

Children, Parents/carers and their Teaching and Support Staff will be directly involved in reviewing progress. This review can be built in to the intervention itself, or it can be a formal meeting held at least once a term, where we all discuss progress and next steps. If a learner has an Education Health and Care Plan (EHC plan) or Statement, the same termly review conversations take place, but the EHC plan/Statement will also be formally reviewed annually.

The SENCO collates the impact data of interventions, to ensure that we are only using interventions that work.

Progress data of all learners is collated by the whole school and monitored by Teachers, Senior Leaders and Governors. We also take part in moderation activities with Academy schools and schools outside the Academy so we can ensure that our judgements stand up to scrutiny. Our school data is also monitored by the Local Authority and Ofsted.

Other Opportunities for Learning

All learners should have the same opportunity to access extra-curricular activities. At Hollybrook Infant School in 2015-16 we are offering a range of additional clubs and activities. We are committed to making reasonable adjustments to ensure participation for all.

All staff at Hollybrook Infant School have regular training on the Equality Act 2010. This legislation places specific duties on schools, settings and providers including the duty not to discriminate, harass or victimise a child or adult linked to a protected characteristic defined in the Equality Act and to make 'reasonable adjustments.'

The Equality Act 210 definition of disability is:

"A person has a disability for the purposes of this Act if (s)he has a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on his ability to carry out normal day-to day activities."

Section 1(1) Disability Discrimination Act 1995

This definition of disability in the Equality Act includes children with long term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, and cancer. Children and young people with such conditions do not necessarily have SEN, but there is a significant overlap between disabled children and young people and those with SEN. Children and young people may therefore be covered by both SEN and disability legislation.

Preparing for the next step

Transition is a part of life for all learners. This can be transition to a new class in school, having a new teacher, or moving on to another school, training provider or moving in to employment. Hollybrook Infant School is committed to working in partnership with children, families and other providers to ensure positive transitions occur.

Planning for transition is a part of our provision for all learners with SEN. Moving classes will be discussed with the learner and their parents/carers at their summer term review meeting. Transition to junior schools will be discussed in the summer term of their Year 2, to ensure time for planning and preparation.

Have your say

Hollybrook Infant School is a community school. We can shape and develop provision for all of our learners ensuring achievement for all. This SEN report declares our annual offer to learners with SEN, but to be effective it needs the views of all parents/carers, learners, governors and staff. So please engage with our annual process to 'assess plan, do and review' provision for SEN.

Please read alongside the admissions policy.
